Simple rules that keep the website tidy

> The short version. Sign in, choose a section in the menu, click the item you want to change, edit it, press Save. The website updates straight away.
>
> You cannot break the website by trying things. Anything can be changed again, and a page can be hidden with Unpublish until it is ready.

One

Signing in and your account

Each partner has their own account and their own password. Nobody else, not even the developer, can see your password.

Signing in

1. Open tayariafrica.com/admin in your browser. Bookmark it on your phone and computer.
2. Type your email and password. Press Show if you want to see what you typed.
3. Press Sign in. If you turned on two-step login, type the six-digit code from your authenticator app.

The sign-in page.

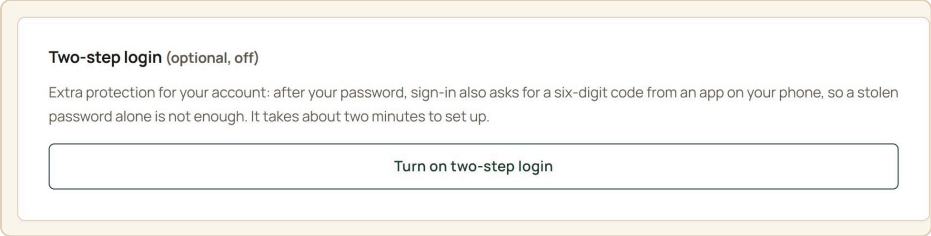

Forgot your password?

1. Press Forgot your password? on the sign-in page and enter your email. A link arrives by email.
2. Or ask a partner to press Reset link next to your name on the People page and send it to you on WhatsApp.
3. Open the link, press Continue, choose a new password (at least 10 characters).

Links only work once and only the newest one works. If a link says it has already been used, ask for a fresh one.

Your account and two-step login

Under My account you can change your name, change your password and turn on two-step login. With two-step login, signing in also asks for a six-digit code from an app on your phone (Google Authenticator, Microsoft Authenticator or 1Password), so a stolen password alone is not enough. It is optional and takes about two minutes: press Turn on two-step login, scan the code with the app, type the six digits it shows.

Two-step login on the My account page.

Lost or changed your phone? A partner opens People and presses Reset two-step next to your name. You then sign in with your password and can turn it on again on the new phone.

Two

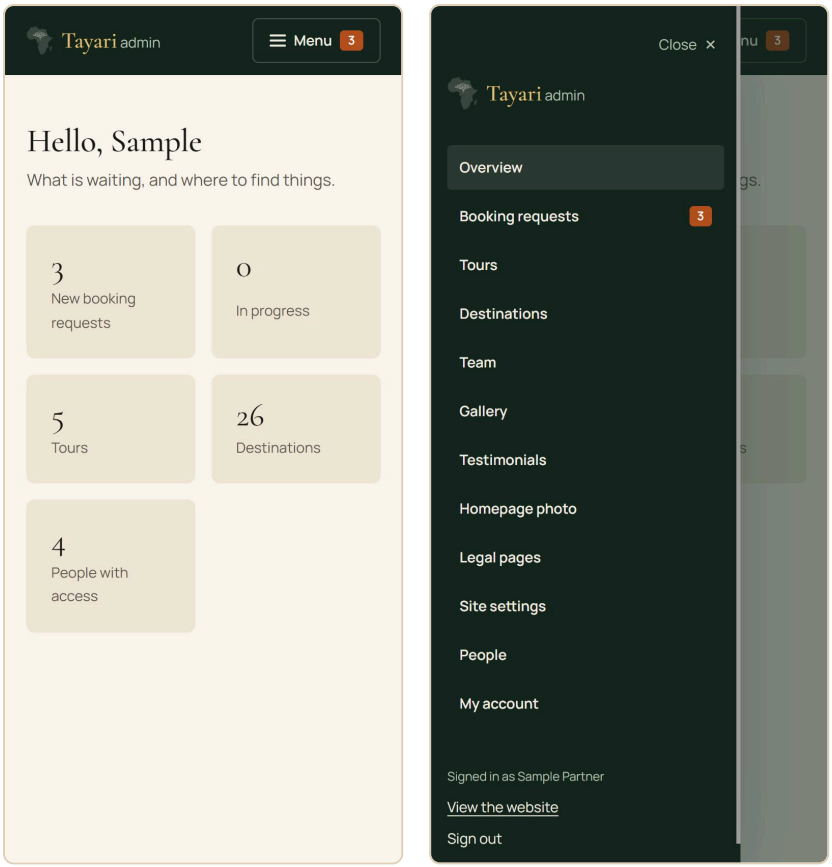

Finding your way around

After signing in you land on the Overview: how many booking requests are new or in progress, and how many tours and destinations are on the website. Click a number to jump to that list.

The Overview on a computer. The menu on the left is always there.

On a phone, the menu is folded away. Press Menu at the top right to open it, and choose a page. The orange number next to Menu shows new booking requests.

On a phone: closed, and with the menu open.

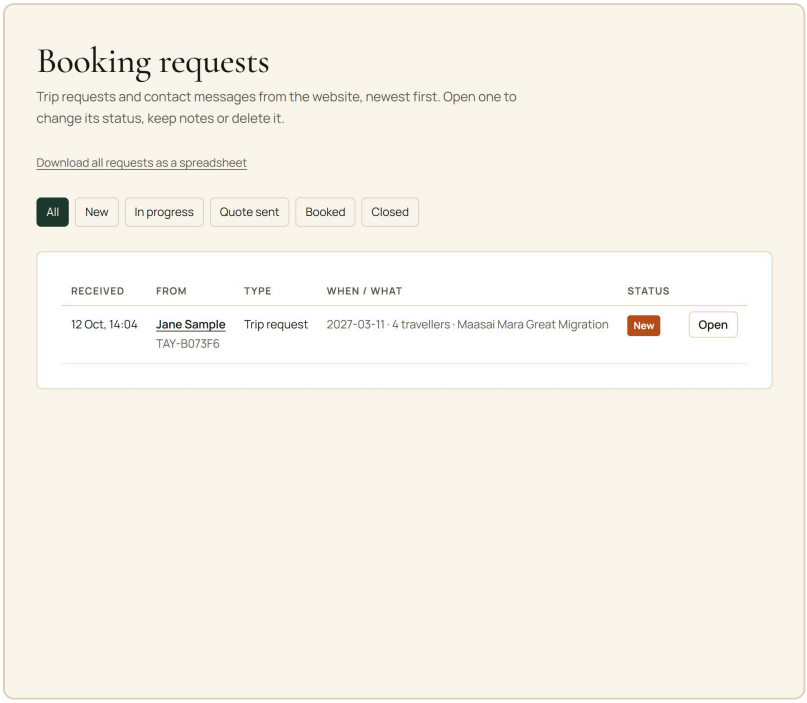

IN THE MENU	WHAT IT IS FOR
Booking requests	Trip requests and messages from visitors
Tours, Destinations	The trips and places on the website
Team, Gallery, Testimonials	People, photos and what travellers say
Homepage photo	The large photograph at the top of the homepage
Legal pages	Terms, privacy and cancellation wording
Site settings	Phone numbers, WhatsApp, email, offices, booking terms, page photos
People, My account	Who has access, and your own sign-in View the website at the bottom of the menu opens the public website in a new tab. Sign out is underneath it.

Three

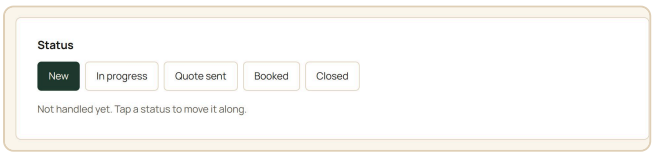

Booking requests

Every trip request and contact message sent from the website arrives here. A request is not a booking: nothing is confirmed until you agree the plan with the traveller.

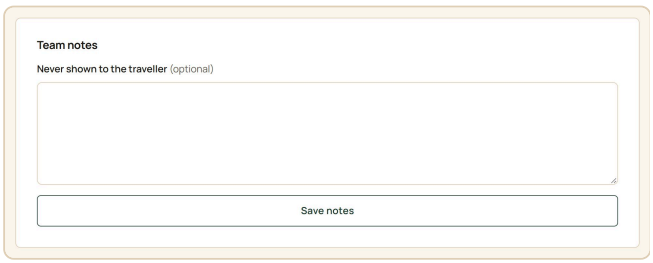

The list of requests (shown here with the sample request only). Filter by status with the buttons at the top.

1. Press Open (or the person's name) to see everything they told you: trip, dates, travellers, how they want to get there, their contact details and message.
2. Reply with the Email or WhatsApp link at the top of the request.
3. Tap a status to keep the team in step: In progress when someone is working on it, Quote sent, then Booked or Closed. The page shows who changed it last.
4. Write anything the team should know in Team notes and press Save notes. Travellers never see notes.

One tap changes the status.

Team notes, private to the team.

Delete is at the bottom of a request. Use it only for spam, tests and duplicates; mark real requests Closed instead so their history stays. Deleting asks first and is recorded under Recent changes on the People page.

Keeping a copy. Download all requests as a spreadsheet at the top of the list saves every request to a file that opens in Excel or Google Sheets. It holds travellers' contact details, so keep it private.

Four

How editing works

Tours, destinations, team, gallery, testimonials, the homepage photo and legal pages all work the same way. Learn it once and it applies everywhere.

1. Choose the section in the menu. You see a list with a small photo, the status (Live or Draft) and when it last changed.
2. Click an item to open it, or press Add a … to create a new one.
3. Change any field. Fields marked  are required. Grey text under a field explains what it is for.
4. Press the button in the bar at the bottom of the screen.

A list page: the Tours.

The bar at the bottom of every editor.

BUTTON	WHAT IT DOES
Publish	Saves and puts a new item on the website.
Save	Saves changes to an item that is already on the website. They show straight away.
Save draft	Saves without putting it on the website, so you can finish later.
Unpublish (save as draft)	Takes an item off the website without deleting it.
Delete	Removes it for good. It asks first.
View on site	Opens the item on the public website.

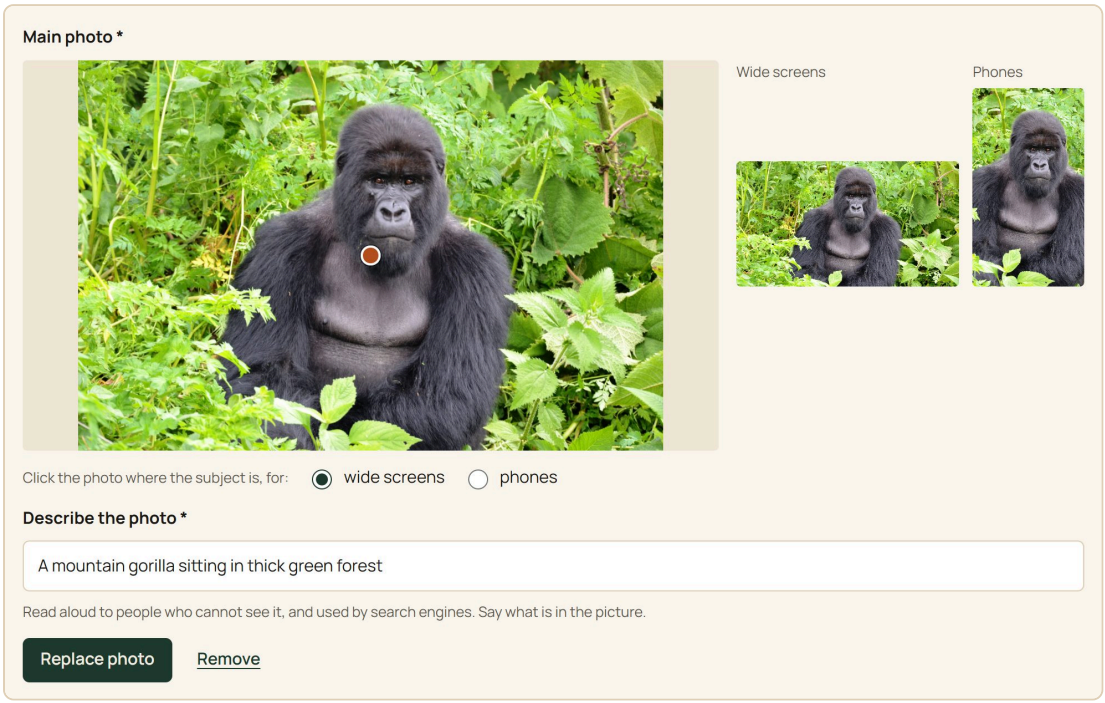

If something is missing, the admin highlights the field in red and scrolls to it. Fix it and press the button again.

Do not change the web address of something already on the website. People may have saved or shared that link, and it would stop working. For new items, the web address fills itself in from the name.

Five

Photos sell the trips, so a few minutes on each one is worth it.

A photo field: the photo, the two crop previews, the description and the buttons.

1. Press Upload a photo (or Replace photo) and choose a JPG, PNG or WebP file from your phone or computer.
2. Fill in Describe the photo in a few plain words, for example "Elephants crossing the river at sunset". It is read aloud to people who cannot see it and helps Google. The admin will not save without it.
3. Click on the photo where the main subject is, once with wide screens selected and once with phones selected. The small previews show what each screen will see.
4. Save the page.

- Use photos at least 1,200 pixels wide (bigger is better); the homepage photo at least 2,800. The admin warns you if a photo is too small to look sharp.
- Landscape (wider than tall) works best everywhere except team portraits.
- Only use photos Tayari owns or has permission to use. Team photos must always be the real person.

Six

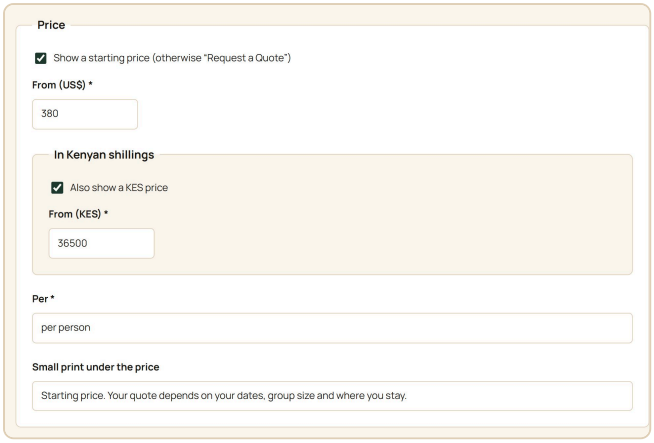

Tours

Each tour has its own page with a price, the nights, a day-by-day plan and what is included. The Tours page lists them all.

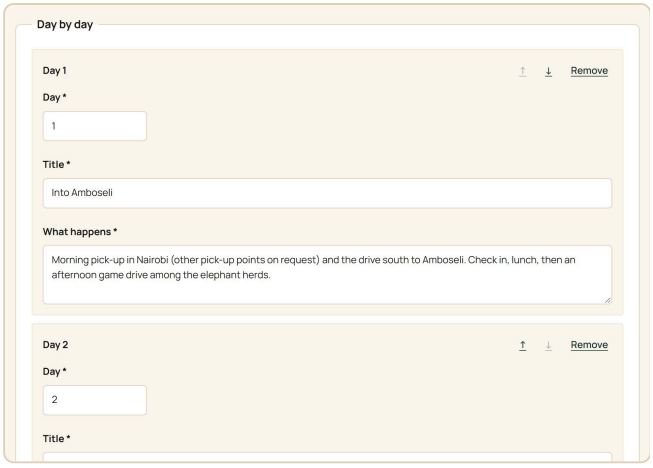

Editing a tour.

FIELD	WHAT TO PUT
Title, One-line summary	The name and a short, inviting line under it.
Short description	Two sentences shown on cards and in search results.
About this trip	Paragraphs for the tour page. Leave an empty line between paragraphs.
Length	Days and nights. A day trip is 1 day and 0 nights.
Price	Tick "Show a starting price" and type the US$ amount, and the Kenyan shilling amount if you want both. Leave it unticked to show Request a Quote.
Nights at a glance	Where the nights are spent, e.g. 2 nights in the Maasai Mara.
Day by day	One block per day: day number, a title and what happens. Use the arrows to reorder.
Places visited	Tick the destinations on the route. They link to each other.
Included, Not included	One item per line. Empty lists are not shown.
Show on the homepage	Puts the tour in the homepage tours section.

The price. Prices show exactly as typed.

The day-by-day plan.

Seven

Destinations

Destinations appear on the Destinations page, on the map and in the trip finder. Each one has a Type.

TYPE	WHAT VISITORS SEE
Full page	Its own page: large photo, "About the place", highlights, things to do, best time to go, a gallery and tours that visit it.
On request	A short listing that goes straight to the trip request form. Good for places you plan to order.

Turning an "on request" place into a full page

1. Open the place and set Type to Full page.
2. Fill in About the place (two or three short paragraphs), Highlights and Things to do (one per line), tick Show a best time to go and fill in the months and why, and add four to eight photos under More photos.
3. Press Save and check it with View on site.

Putting a place on the map

Under Map pins, type the longitude and latitude. To find them, right-click the place in Google Maps: the numbers at the top of the menu are latitude first, then longitude, so swap them round. A place with several sites (for example Rwanda and Uganda for gorillas) can have more than one pin.

Map pins, longitude first.

- Country (as shown) is what visitors read, and it is how places are grouped in the country dropdowns on the Destinations page. Write it the same way each time (e.g. "South Africa").
- Country codes for the map colour the country on the map: KE Kenya, TZ Tanzania, UG Uganda, RW Rwanda, ZA South Africa, BW Botswana, NA Namibia, ZM Zambia, ZW Zimbabwe, EG Egypt, MA Morocco, ET Ethiopia, MG Madagascar, GH Ghana, SN Senegal.
- Good for (Wildlife, Beaches, Culture) decides which trip finder searches show the place.

Eight

Team, gallery, testimonials and the homepage photo

Team

Name, job title, where they work, a Branch (for example "In Kenya" or "In the USA"; people are grouped by branch on the website), a short bio and a real portrait. A head-and-shoulders photo works best.

Editing a team member.

Gallery

Add a photo, choose its Category (wildlife, landscapes, coast, culture, journeys) so visitors can filter, and optionally where it was taken. Tick Wide for panoramic photos.

Testimonials

Only real words from real travellers, with their permission. Untick This is a sample once a testimonial is real; samples are hidden on the live website.

Homepage photo

The large photo at the top of the homepage. Choose a landscape photo with open sky at the top for the logo. The website shows the first published one.

Legal pages

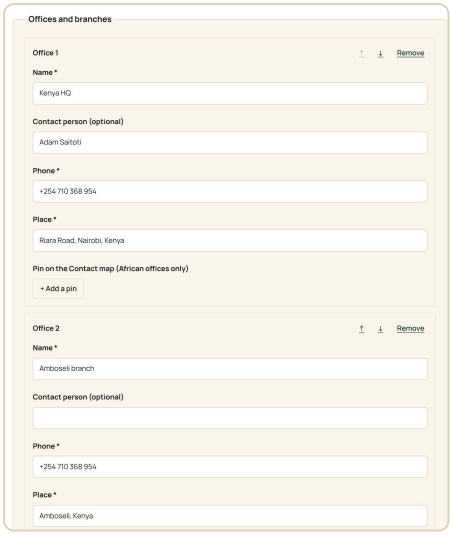

Terms, privacy and cancellation. They carry a "Draft for review" notice until you untick Draft, which you should only do once the wording has been approved. The deposit and cancellation figures come from Site settings, so they always match the booking terms.

Nine

Site settings

One page for everything that appears across the website: contact details, offices, booking terms, the words on the homepage and the opening photo of each page.

- Contact details: email, main phone, the WhatsApp number (digits only, with the country code, e.g. 254710368954), the 24/7 emergency number, address and opening hours.
- Offices and branches: each with a name, a contact person, phone and place. Every office with a contact person appears in the website footer as a WhatsApp link with that person's first name. Add a person and they appear; remove them and they disappear.
- Booking terms: the deposit percentage, payment methods, when the balance is paid and the cancellation refunds. These feed the trip request page and the legal pages.
- Homepage words, social media, page photos and how the website looks when shared on WhatsApp or Facebook.

Offices and branches.

> Never type bank or M-Pesa account numbers anywhere on the website. Send payment details to travellers privately.

Press Save at the bottom when done. Changes show on every page straight away.

Ten

People

Everyone on the team has the same access. Any partner can invite someone, send a reset link or remove access.

Inviting someone.

1. Invite: type their name and email and press Create invite link. Copy the link or press the WhatsApp button and send it to them. They open it, press Continue and choose their password.
2. Locked out: press Reset link next to their name and send them the link.
3. Lost phone: press Reset two-step next to their name (only shown if they use two-step login).
4. Remove: press Remove. They lose access straight away. The last account can never be removed.

Recent changes at the bottom of the page records who invited, removed or reset whom, and deleted requests.

Eleven

Good habits and when something goes wrong

- One person edits an item at a time. If two people save the same tour, the last save wins.
- Check after saving with `View on site`, on a phone as well as a computer.
- Keep names consistent: write a country the same way every time, so places group together.
- Write plainly. Short sentences, real details, no promises Tayari cannot keep (never "guaranteed sightings" or invented awards).
- Prices exactly as agreed. If unsure, leave the price off and the website shows "Request a Quote".
- Use drafts for anything not ready: Save draft, finish later, then Publish.

If something looks wrong

WHAT YOU SEE	WHAT TO DO
A change does not show	Refresh the page on the website. If it still does not show, open the item in the admin and check it says Live, then save again.
The admin will not save	Look for a field highlighted in red: something required is missing or too long.
A photo will not upload	Check it is a JPG, PNG or WebP image and try again on a stronger connection.
A link says it has been used	Ask a partner for a fresh reset or invite link. Only the newest one works.
Signed out unexpectedly	Sign in again. With two-step login, have your phone ready.
Anything else	Take a screenshot and send it to the developer with a sentence about what you were doing.
